Title of Article: Assessment of the Impact of Compensation on Employees Performance.

Author(s): Ojo, Olu; Oyeniyi, Omotayo and Adeniji, A. A.

Outlet: Journal of Business Administration and Management. (Duncan Science Company). Vol.: 2 No.1 Date of Publication: 2007

Abstract: The major objective of most employers is to obtain optimum result possible from employees. The employees aspire to obtain maximum level of compensation from their labour input. This paper therefore, analyzes the impact of compensation on performance of the employees. Survey method which include questionnaire as the instrument of data collection was used. Hypotheses were tested for and the result revealed that there is a positive relationship between compensation and employees’ performances. That if employees were adequately compensated, they will perform better than those that were poorly compensated.