Title of Article: Entrepreneurial Motivations as Determinants of Women Entrepreneurial Challenges

Author(s): Chinonye Okafor and Amalu, R.

Outlet: Petroleum-Gas University of Ploiesti, Bulletin, Romania, Economic Series, Romania

Vol.: LXII, No. 2 Date of Publication: 2010

Abstract: The paper examined entrepreneurial motivations as determinants of women entrepreneurial challenges. The result showed that there a positive relationship between motivational factors and women entrepreneurial challenges. The study recommended that in order to reduce the challenges women face in business there is need for women to take out time to study the nature of challenges women face in business and if possible proffer solution to them before starting their business.