Title of Article:  Cultural values and successful census operation In: F. D. Oyekanmi

Author(s):  P. A. Edewor

Outlet:  Appraisals for 2006 Population and Housing Census in Nigeria. Lagos: Department of Sociology, Unilag.

Date: 2008

Abstract:  This paper clarifies the concepts of cultural values and census. It then identifies and examines specific cultural values in Nigeria showing how they can either make or mar a national census especially in such a culturally diverse society with a multiplicity of cultures. It identifies the myths about a population count which have their origins in traditions, misconceptions and suspicion about the intentions of governments and then makes recommendations for a successful national head-count.