ARC223: History of Architecture II (2 Credit Units)

Department of Architecture

Covenant University
1. ARC223

1.1. ARC223: History of Architecture II (2 Credit Units)

The course is a continuation in the series of courses aimed at exposing students to the study of the chronological record of architectural events as they affect a nation and its people. This is based on a critical examination of architectural source of material and usually presenting explanations of causes from ancient periods to the present day. Emphasis is on the study of the impact of the monotheist religion of Christianity and Islam on the development of Architecture during the Medieval period. MODULE 1: Early Christian Architecture. Architecture. MODULE 3: Western Christian (Roman Catholic) Architecture. MODULE 4: Romanesque Architecture. MODULE 5: Gothic Architecture. MODULE 6: Islamic Architecture.

ARC: 224 Architectural Graphics and Presentation Techniques II (2 Credit Units)

This is a continuation of ARC214, but also the introduction of other media for drawing. MODULE 1: Perspective Renderings- The use of Pencil, Pen and ink, water colours and pastel in perspective rendering. MODULE 2: Working Drawings and Details-Plans, Elevations, Sections, Details and Schedules. Submission of portfolio of a simple project showing perspective, architectural model and working drawings is a compulsory requirement of this course.