BLD513: Advanced Project Management (2 Units)

Department of Building Technology

Covenant University
1. BLD513

1.1. BLD513: Advanced Project Management (2 Units)

The course deals with the practice of project management as a direct service to clients on an in-house or consultancy basis. Analysis of management thoughts, the use of electronic computers to feasibility analysis, design, execution and management of building projects including management technology, financial appraisal and use of scarce resources, CPM PERT etc. Marketing of Construction and Construction products. Construction Risk Management. Quantitative Management and Applications. Resources Management and Inventory.