BUS327 Research Methodology (3 Units)

Department of Economics

Covenant University
1. BUS327

1.1. BUS327 Research Methodology (3 Units)

An introductory approach to economic research, which includes the following topics: the scientific method as a basis for economic analysis, the formulation and testing of hypothesis and economic models, interpretation and presentation of empirical results, including their appraisal as well as comparison of different economic research methods.