ECN214 Introduction to Development Economics I (2 Units)

Department of Economics

Covenant University
1. ECN214
1.1. ECN214 Introduction to Development Economics I (2 Units)

This course introduces the students to basic concepts in developing economics. Topics to be covered include: The meaning and scope of Development Economics and the limited relevance of traditional Western economic theories, Economic and non-Economic factors in developments, the characteristics of developed and LDCs. Planning the development process; rural development; Agricultural development; Industrialisation; Inflation and price control, Global economic issues in LDCs.