1. ECN328
1.1. ECN328 Applied Econometrics (2 Units)

Applied topics in econometrics estimations regression analysis, errors in variables, dummy variables, the identification problem; structural analysis of econometric. Models comparative statics, elasticity, short run and dynamic models, forecasting and simulation techniques. The essence of the course is to develop students ability to construct econometric models. Pre-requisite: ECO316.