FRE311 French language Structures I (3 units)

Department of Languages

Covenant University
1. FRE311
1.1. FRE311 French language Structures I (3 units)

This course will introduce students to the different grammatical structures of French. Emphasis will be laid on the grammatical and semantic relations between sentence elements or constituents and syntactic constructions. Notions like form and function will be examined in relation to the grammatical categories of the language.