HMD411 Contemporary Issues and Development I (1 Unit)

Department of Languages

Covenant University
1. HMD411

1.1. HMD411 Contemporary Issues and Development I (1 Unit)

In this course, the fundamental contemporary issues as they aid or mar development are introduced to students. The course x-rays the fundamental causes of underdevelopment and some of the emergent contemporary issues as they affect development. Remarkable in this regard are topics like: Globalization and development, Feminism and development; Racism and development, Politics and development Education and development, Economy and development, Technology and development, Science and Development, and Religion and Development.