HMD421 Contemporary Issues and Development II (1 Unit)

Department of Languages

Covenant University
1. HMD421
1.1. HMD421 Contemporary Issues and Development II (1 Unit)

This is an advanced and more rigorous study of some of the contemporary issues gaining prominence in recent times, as they affect development. The course will treat selected topics in relation to the fundamentals of development. It will deal with HIV / AIDS and development, war and development, terrorism and development: corruption and development. In addition to these, the course shall also examine the associated flexibility of ameliorating the problems associated with these issues towards sustainable all-round development of a man.

UNIVERSITY-WIDE COMPULSORY COURSES

The University-wide Courses are classified into two categories, viz,

a)? the National Universities Commission (NUC) General Required Courses (GST)

b)? the University Custom-built Courses (CST, EDS & TMC)

All the Courses described above and which are listed in tables (a) and (b) below are referred to as the University-wide Courses and they are compulsory courses for ALL students.

a)? NUC GENERAL REQUIRED & COMPULSORY COURSES

b) UNIVERSITY CUSTOM BUILT COMPULSORY COURSES

c)? COLLEGE-WIDE COMPULSORY COURSES FOR CDS (College of Development Studies)

COURSE DESCRIPTION FOR THE UNIVERSITY-WIDE COMPULSORY COURSES