MAC221: Editing and Graphics of Communication (2 Units)

Department of Mass Communication

Covenant University
1. MAC221

1.1. MAC221: Editing and Graphics of Communication (2 Units)

The course introduces the students to the basics of editing, newspaper design and layout, typography and type. The use of typefaces and other graphic elements, layout and page make-up, principles of page layout, use of copy symbols, photo-cropping, etc will also be taught during the course. It also aims at helping students appreciate the place of aesthetics in print production.