MAC226: Marketing Foundation for Public Relations and Advertising (2 Units)

Department of Mass Communication

Covenant University
1. MAC226
1.1. MAC226: Marketing Foundation for Public Relations and Advertising (2 Units)

This course studies the place of advertising and public relations as communication tools for promoting and marketing products, services, organizations, people and ideas. It examines basic marketing concepts as they relate to mass communication in different situations.