SOC223 Social Change II (2 Units)

Department of Sociology

Covenant University
1. SOC223
   1.1. SOC223 Social Change II (2 Units)

This course is a continuation of SOC213. It also examines the concept of social change from a gamut of sociological theories and perspectives. The course will also analyse the processes of modernization and development, which inform the cardinal aspects of different societies the world over. The various social problems that have attended these changes will also be treated.