SOC227 The Military and the State (2 Units)

Department of Sociology

Covenant University
1. SOC227
1.1. SOC227 The Military and the State (2 Units)

This course examines the emergence of the Military as an institution in Nigeria; its involvement in politics as well as an examination of successive military governments in Nigeria. The course also examines the different Theories/Perspectives of understanding military intervention in politics; the constitutional role of the military in the state as well as military civilian relations.