SOC326 Rural Sociology (2 Units)

Department of Sociology

Covenant University
1. SOC326

1.1. SOC326 Rural Sociology (2 Units)

This is a study of the fundamental features of rural societies, their ecological systems and patterns of transformation, the identification, evaluation and utilisation of nature and human resources, social change in rural societies, and rural social institutions and their adaptation to change.