Exploring the Breakthrough Power of Vision – Part 3

“Redemption makes the believer a child of destiny,” University Chaplain, Pastor Charles Ihekwa, stated on Tuesday, October 20, 2015 in his message titled, “Exploring the Breakthrough Power of Vision – Part 3.” He reminded faculty, staff and students that we need to pursue God’s vision for our lives, rather than our own.

Pastor Ihekwa defined vision as “God’s plan for your future.” In Hebrews 10:7, Jesus said that He came to do His Father’s will. Likewise, we are to do God’s will in the earth; not our own will.

“A lot of people are running on other people’s vision,” Pastor Ihekwa stated. “When you follow God’s plan for your life, you will challenge the forces of darkness. He will make the crooked paths straight and the rough places smooth,” he exhorted (Isaiah 40:4).

“We live in a vision ruled world. You don’t pursue your plan, you look to His plan. God will only back up His plan in our lives, not ours,” Pastor Ihekwa reminded all. “We must commit our ways to the Lord for our glorious future to be realised,” he continued (Psalm 37:5). He shared that life will not mean much if a person is outside of God’s plan, will and purpose.

One may ask how we can access God’s divine plan. The first step is that we must be meek; we must be open to correction and have a teachable spirit (Psalm 23:9). Moses was an influential man who was known to walk in humility; so much so that Numbers 12:3 states, “Now the man Moses was very humble, more than all men who were on the face of the earth.”

The second way in which we access God’s divine plan for our lives is by creating a serene environment of quietness within and without.

When we walk in God’s divine plan for our lives, we will notice three significant things. Firstly, that God works for you (1Thessalonians 5:22). Secondly, we receive divine strength (1 Kings 18:46). Thirdly, we enjoy divine favour as a platform for supernatural promotion (Psalm 24:3).

We must listen to the voice of God and what He has to say about His plan for our lives.
